MASSACHUSETTS SILVER DEMOCRATS.

The Massachusetts Silver Democrats in State Convention nominated the sterling silver man ex-Congressman F. Williams for Governor, and endorsed the Chicago platform and William J. Bryan. A resolution that the Silver Democrats will welcome to their ranks all supporters of the Chicago platform, and will have no political fellowship with those who do not support it, was unanimously adopted.

The platform declares that "whether it is judicious to abandon half of the money in the world, is the supreme question." The demonetization of silver begun in 1873, has been a potent and increasing factor in the disastrous depression of the last twenty years, not uniform, but with ups and downs, each level being lower than the preceding one. Gold has appreciated in purchasing power, demoralizing the producing classes with paralysis of trade through falling prices, and is the cause of the unemployment of labor and the reduction of wages.

The platform emphatically demands the remonetization of silver at the ratio to gold of 16 to 1, which would increase the demand for silver and reduce the demand for gold so that the two would meet and remain at parity, and the paralyzing battle of the standards cease and the world enter upon a period of assured prosperity. The greenbacks issued by the Government have proved the country's best paper money, and should not be cancelled, as there can be no privilege more dangerous than the control of our currency supply by private bankers.

A plank condemning government by injunction was adopted as was also a resolution characterizing the Dingley tariff as a "measure enacted on the imperious demands of the corporations which contributed to the scandalous Hanna fund."

It is a hopeful sign to have the silver men of Massachusetts, in a convention composed of delegates from all parts of the State, declare their independence and avow their determination to have no political fellowship with those who are not in favor of the free coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. This proves that the cause of silver is advancing, as a few years ago, before the general business depression set people to thinking, a dozen men could scarcely be found in any New England State who would adopt such a platform as that which is now unanimously endorsed by the Silver Democrats of Massachusetts. The world moves and right will prevail.

The notice of foreclosure and sale of the Union Pacific Railroad and franchises in Nebraska, Wyoming and Utah has been filed for publication in the Cheyenne papers. The sale is to take place November 1st. As the terms of sale have been agreed upon by the Attorney-General and a syndicate of Union Pacific stockholders, it is not probable that there will be more than one bidder, and the Government will lose about $25,000,000 by the transaction. The corporations which contributed to the Hanna campaign fund, and nearly all of them did, are getting their money back with interest. Mr. Hanna says it is all right, President McKinley echoes Mr. Hanna's words, and both say to the people, "What are you going to do about it?"

The story of a plot to assassinate the Czar of all the Russias, and which was only frustrated by an accident, has just leaked out. Some weeks before the Czar's visit to Warsaw socialists dug a tunnel under the street between the Governor's palace and Czar's castle. The socialists feared the tunnel would cause the premature collapse of the roadway and engaged masons to build supports. The masons notified the police, and a large number of arrests were made. The conspirators intended to blow up the Czar's castle with dynamite while he occupied it.

It is announced that the plan for the government of Hawaii has been arranged, and that there will be a contest in the Senate over the annexation of the islands. If annexed Hawaii will be organized as a territory with two Houses and a Governor. The Assembly, or Lower House, will be elected, and the Governor and the Senate will be appointed. The question is being asked if the form of government will be republican if one branch of the Legislature is appointed?

Now it is the Mohammedans of Crete who are appealing to the Powers for aid and protection from the Christians. They claim they are without food and shelter, and almost naked. The Christians, they say, burned their olive groves and left them in a starving condition, and they ask the Ambassadors of the Powers at Constantinople for protection.

Some idea of the size of Alaska may be formed when it is known that it contains an area of 577,390 square miles. This is more than twice the area of Texas. Twelve states the size of Pennsylvania could be carved out of the territory of Alaska, with enough left over to make a state like South Carolina.

CLARENCE KING, the famous geologist, recently said: "The world is on the verge of a great mining era. I believe we are about to enter upon a century which will open up vast resources and will be the greatest the earth has ever known."

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

The yellow fever shows a slight increase at New Orleans, but the disease is not malignant and few deaths are reported.

H. B. Maxson of Nevada was selected as reading clerk at the National Irrigation Congress now in session at Lincoln, Nebraska.

There is a rumor in Canadian circles that the United States has made overtures to the government of Denmark with the object of acquiring Greenland.

W. H. Irwin of Boulder, Colorado, owner of the Belcher silver mine, shot his wife and then shot himself through the heart. They had been living apart for sometime.

Five thousand river miners refused to go to work yesterday at Pittsburg owing to a disagreement regarding the rates of mining thin and thick vein coal. A conference will be held.

A row occurred at the National Labor Convention at Chicago yesterday. Dr. H. S. Taylor tried to speak, but the majority of the delegates objected and a rumpus was the result.

The farm house of A. L. Gordon near Alma, Neb., was destroyed by fire yesterday morning at an early hour and three of his children burned to death. Gordon was badly burned in attempting their rescue.

The Republican State Convention of Massachusetts yesterday nominated the following State officers: Governor, Roger Wolcott; Lieutenant Governor, W. M. Crane; Secretary of State, W. M. Olin; Treasurer E. P. Shaw; Auditor, John W. Kimball; Attorney General, H. M. Knowlton. They were all re-nominations.

The powder mills near Santa Cruz were destroyed by an explosion at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, startling people from their slumbers, breaking windows and jarring the earth for miles. The explosion was heard at Watsonville, twenty miles distant. The forest near by was set on fire and there was a sea of flame for half a mile. Strange as it may seem no one was killed. Two hundred tons of powder went off. The entire works are in ruins. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

The steamer Australia arrived yesterday from Honolulu bringing annexation news. It is claimed that Representative Cannon is opposed to annexation, although he says he has not committed himself. Congressman Landelslager was non-committal, but it is known that he favors annexation. He admitted, however, that he believed when the question came up England would file a protest, but all that England wants is a cable landing at the Islands near Honolulu and it must be on British soil. Necker Island is practically worthless to Hawaii, and it is believed that this will be ceded to Great Britain and end all controversy.

BREVITIES.

Professor Kroll of Carson spent the day here yesterday.

C. O. Wallace returned from Elko last evening and remained over. He goes to Virginia this morning.

Senator Stewart is at Salt Lake. He was tendered a reception in that city and was banqueted there last evening.

The Elite is a convenient place as well as a quiet and orderly resort. H. Riter and James Kerr endeavor to please all patrons and rarely, if ever, fail.

If a fine beating stove is needed for the winter months, the Nevada Hardware and Supply Company have a big stock to select from and their prices are very reasonable.

C. P. Huntington has resigned from the directorate of the Central Pacific Railroad. It is claimed that this move was necessary to make peace with the English stockholders.

Rubstaller's Gift Edge Sacramento beer at Spiro Francovich's Wine House. The very best of wines, liquors and cigars always in stock and fancy or mixed drinks a specialty.

Someone for want of something better to do has circulated the story that the Hext-Walther concert has been postponed one week. This is not true and the company will appear Friday evening as advertised.

C. H. Colburn and wife, who have been in New York for sometime, were passengers for the Comstock yesterday. Mr. Colburn has been East looking after the sale of a patent lemon squeezer he is interested in.

Constable Leeper, while out in the mountains Monday night trailing a horse thief, was thrown from his horse and sustained a fracture of the collar bone, also the dislocation of his arm. Constable McNeilly was with him and they immediately returned to town. Mr. Leeper will be on the sick list for some days.

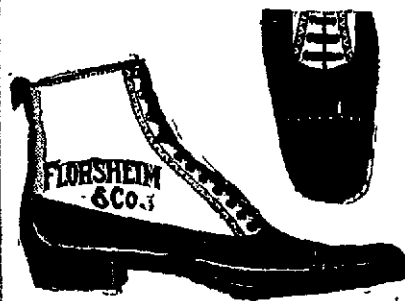

While the action of the Board of Directors of the Carson Agricultural Society in prohibiting gambling games of all kinds from doing business on the track is praiseworthy, it is like doing away with the clown at a circus or the end men at a minstrel show. A race track without a few thieving games will be a new feature and will have a hard rustle to score a success.

Just as the pay-our came in yesterday afternoon a horse hitched to a driving cart took fright and tore madly up Commercial Row. The lady driver lost control of the animal and the outfit collided with the street lamp at the Elite corner, snapping the iron post in two and tearing it from its fastenings. Ready hands grabbed the frightened animal and the lady was rescued from her perilous position. Her name was not obtained.

IN A KANSAS TOWN.

Differs from Other American Villages in Many Respects.

Chiefly by reason of its newness and of a certain cosmopolitan aspect the Kansas town differs from villages elsewhere in the United States and presents a few interesting variations from the common type, says Atlantic. The largest town in the commonwealth has hardly 40,000 inhabitants. Most of the county seats in the eastern half of the state, where the rainfall is copious and where crops are bountiful and regular, contain about 3,000 persons each. The county seat is in the strictest sense a country town. The inhabitants live almost entirely upon the tributary country. There are no factories. The money that the farmers of the county spend for food, clothing, fuel and the comforts of the farm home is the cash capital upon which the town does its business. This capital is passed from the grocers to the clothing merchants, to the druggists, to the furniture dealers, to the hardware sellers and to professional men. In the older communities of the eastern and middle states necessity has developed factories, which convert raw material into finished products, and money from the outside world comes in. But Kansas is yet hardly a generation old, and it has not entered the manufacturing era of industry.

MAGAZINE RIFLES.

Weapons That Are Serviceable After Firing 9,000 Rounds.

Some curious effects of the tests of the new magazine rifles in actual service are noted in Engineering. Cordite was accused of causing rapid wear of the rifling, and this charge must have had some foundation, as the Metford rifling has been abandoned in the weapons now issued, and has been replaced by a system devised by Rigby, which is said to wear well and give more accurate shooting than the Mannlicher-Mausser or Lebel systems.

Certainly the wear cannot now be a very serious matter, if the reports can be relied on that accurate shooting has been made even after firing some thousands of rounds and the weapon is still serviceable after 8,000 or 9,000 rounds have been fired.

In the Tuche punitive expedition the new Dumburn bullet will be employed, that originally used having proved deficient in stopping power. In the Chitral campaign one man was six times shot, and nevertheless he recovered. The private soldiers are, accordingly, losing confidence in the weapon.

A COLOSSAL TREE IN MAINE.

Trunk Is Twenty-Three Feet Around and Branches Contain Band Stand.

Jay, Me., claims one of the biggest trees in Maine. It stands on the banks of the Androscoggin, on the lawn of the late Dudley Bean. The circumference four feet from the ground is 23 feet, diameter seven feet. About six feet from the ground there are seven branches radiating from its trunk, which are from 18 to 24 inches in diameter. The branches spread over a space of ground 280 feet in circumference, or 90 feet in diameter. Where the branches leave the trunk of the tree about seven feet from the ground there has been erected a band stand, which seats 25 persons. A cooler place on hot days cannot be found. A Boston gentleman was riding by recently and the tree attracted his attention. He examined and measured it and was astonished at its dimensions. He went away with the remark that if the tree was on his lawn $10,000 wouldn't buy it. It was set out 42 years ago by Lafayette Bean on the day of his departure for California, whence he never returned.

Colorado's Peaks.

There are 110 mountains in Colorado whose peaks are over 12,000 feet above the ocean level. Forty of these are higher than 14,000 feet, and more than half of that number are so remote and rugged that no one has dared to attempt to climb them. Some of them are massed with snow, others have glaciers over their approaches, and others are merely masses of jagged rocks.

The Los Angeles Express states that work began last Monday on the Randsburg railroad. The contractors are required to have the road in operation by December 10th.

There is considerable quiet talk as to the outcome of the city election next week. Opinions vary, but the general impression is that the question of pure water will carry.

The Granite Saloon is a quiet and pleasant place of resort. Cool beer is a specialty. Choice wines are sold by the gallon or in quantities desired also liquors of all kinds.

O. Novacovich will handle the Kane Brothers' of Coloma, Cal., celebrated fresh fruits. Ladies who contemplate putting up fruit for the winter will do well to call and order their supply.

A pretty girl in Canada, whose uncle killed her, sued for $2,000. The jury gave her $20 cents. She had a right to kick. If she was pretty she had a right to say that her relatives should stay in the background and give some of the outsiders a show.

Jim Christiansen of the Washoe Luncheon Counter has had a kind of far-away look of late and his friends have been worried about him, but his case is not serious. It is a case of blonde hair, blue eyes and a graceful and willowy form. He will recover.

There seems to be an epidemic of epizootic, like fever or some other kindred disease abroad in the town. Over one hundred people applied at the drug stores yesterday for relief. It is claimed that some of the Californians who visited the fair brought it over.

The Porteous Decorating Company make a specialty of framing pictures. Mr. Porteous displays excellent taste and shows fine workmanship in this line, and the latest mouldings and mats known to the trade can be found at the store. Look at the sample work in their window.

S. Emrich has just finished getting in all of his fall stock in dress goods, blankets, underwear, etc. Having succeeded in securing his stock before the Dingley bill went into effect, he saved the new duties on many of his goods and consequently gives his customers the benefit, by low prices.

The Silver State speaks thusly of one of Reno's well known citizens: George W. Cheek, formerly of this place, has for some time been holding the responsible position of chief clerk at the Riverside, the leading hotel of Reno. George thoroughly understands the business and is just as popular with the patrons of the Riverside Hotel as he was while clerking in the Bush and Lafayette hotels of this place.

The Hext Company.

The Portland Telegram has the following to say of the Hext Concert Company:

Literary and musical Portland—or as much of it as constituted a fair-sized Marquam audience—was given a genuine treat last evening by the Hext Concert Company. The weather was not of the kind that encourages theatre going, and the prices of admission were placed at a figure that invited only people of means, but despite these seeming drawbacks the house was quite comfortably filled.

Miss Hext's first number—a humorous bit from Barrie—pronounced her a reader of rare declamatory ability and dramatic force. She handled the difficult Scottish dialect with deftness, and her facial eloquence made intelligible much of it that requires translation when conveyed in cold type. Then she gave an impersonation, in costume, of Cleopatra, and her tragic lines were delivered no less effectively than the Gaelic patter. Her Ophelia was fascinatingly gressome, and her Juliet brought hearty plaudits from the many Shakespearean students in the house. "When Jack Comes Late" was neatly read and acted, and the Grecian posings were beautiful pictures artistically displayed. Miss Hext is a handsome woman as well as a highly talented elocutionist, and if she ever enters the regular dramatic field the world will hear of her. There is no actress before the American public today who eclipses her in the qualifications of stage presence and intellectuality.

Herr Walther's violin work was chiefly remarkable for its expression. He plays with strong feeling and intelligence. He has natural enthusiasm and buoyancy, and his mode of expression is distinctly musical, though sometimes surprising. While he eschews the sensational, he is not averse to brilliant, effective work. He takes liberties with the tempo, but frequently justifies his course. His bowing is excellent, and his technique is well developed. His touch is sometimes heavy, but oftener it has a loving, tender quality that enlists attention and sympathy.

Mr. Holub brought excellent music out of a property piano, and his accompaniments were in every way worthy of the acts they were aimed to embellish.

The success of the entertainment induced many of the appreciative auditors to send in a request for a return engagement, which will probably be granted if dates can be arranged.

This splendid combination will appear at the Opera House to-morrow (Friday) evening the 1st ult. The box sheet at Lake's book store is already pretty thoroughly marked off, but there are a few choice seats yet remaining. Secure them to-day.

H. A. Waldo is studying up a bomb which he believes will completely revolutionize modern warfare. He has not perfected the contrivance yet, but will soon be ready for a practical demonstration. Mr. Waldo says it will be comparatively small and compact, but will be capable of destroying a regiment or battle-line at one shot.

Judge Waldo's office and laboratory is immediately under the JOURNAL's editorial sanctum and when we hear him hammering on any metallic substance now, we have important business at the Court House.

Military Mandamus Case.

In the case of the State of Nevada ex rel. F. M. Huffaker, vs. Colonel J. J. Crosby, et al., defendants, the Supreme Court yesterday rendered its opinion and ordered the writ to issue as prayed for by petitioner, F. M. Huffaker. This is the court martial case in which the Court refused Lawyer Huffaker to appear as counsel for Lieutenant Morgan, who was accused of mutiny. The Supreme Court decides that Lawyer Huffaker has the right to appear before the court martial. The opinion is by Massey, J., the full bench concurring.

Bond for Poison.

Sheriff J. W. They were found guilty of cattle stealing. Sheriff Cummings left for Sacramento with his prisoners on the evening train.

The Carson Fair.

Yesterday was Bicycle Day at the Carson Fair, and the various events announced seemed to draw a larger crowd than any day during the week. It had been intended to start the bicycle races at 10 o'clock, but the Carson wheelmen objected on the ground that it did not give the riders at a distance a fair show, as they would have to prepare for the races immediately upon their arrival. The Directors of the Association consented to a delay and the hour for commencing the contests was fixed at 1 o'clock.

The track was in good condition, but a brisk wind prevented good time. None of the Reno riders entered the races except Martin Simas, who went in the half-mile handicap, but he was left in the rear. Simas also entered the one-mile district championship, but withdrew before the start.

It was now announced from the Judge's stand that there would be no more bicycle races, as the boys refused to ride without a few minutes between races, and the track was needed for the horse races. The wheelmen protested that the large crowd was due to the bicycle races, and that horses were allowed from thirty minutes to an hour between races, while cyclists were not even given ten minutes for rest and rub down. The Directors were firm in their decision, and the cyclists retired and after dressing appeared on the track in a body and marched in front of the grand stand and gave three cheers for the Association, following the cheers with the announcement that they would leave the track and never ride on it again.

The horse races were then called and proceeded with according to program. One singular circumstance about the Carson fair so far is, after the glowing announcements of the strings of Sacramento horses that had given Reno the go-by and were to appear on the Carson track, they do not seem to materialize, or at least haven't so far. The same old chestnuts that showed up at Reno have filled the program, but perhaps the Sacramento horses will come to the scratch next week.

A Scoundrelly Trick.

Someone entered Charles Burke's blacksmith shop, near the iron bridge at an early hour yesterday morning and cut out one of his bellows on both sides from end to end and a second one hanging high on the wall so that it had to be reached with a ladder, was found to have two cuttings fully a foot long in the leather sides.

The party entered the shop through a window on the south-side of the building, knocking out two panes of glass and breaking the sash. The blow was heavy enough to scatter the broken glass across the shop and it is thought that after the crash the person retired and waited to see if the noise attracted any attention. Finding the coast clear the house breaker then entered and completed the work.

Charles says he can form no idea who would attack him in this way. He says he don't know of an enemy that would resort to as malicious a trick as was perpetrated on him and can't imagine any reason for it.

Nothing else in the shop was molested and there was nothing that would give any clue to the perpetrator. A few foot prints and the impress of a hand in the dust on the bellows indicate that a grown person did the job.

Whoever the party maybe, it might be well for him to know that if apprehended, the charge of malicious mischief will not be the only one preferred, but house-breaking or burglary will be added and this means several years in the State prison.

A New Athletic Club.

The boys of the high school and grammar grades have organized an Athletic Club with Louis Bryant as president, and Leroy Pike for secretary. The boys have been working industriously for several days and have succeeded in fitting up quite an extensive gymnasium. They expect to derive much pleasure and hope to gain much benefit from their exercise in it.—Wadsworth Dispatch.

DOCTORS AND HEALTH.

A Claim Made in Behalf of Glasgow and Some Facts Concerning It. One does not naturally look to Scotland as a source of supply of jokes and pleasantries, but there has recently appeared (and it is now going the rounds of the press) what may perhaps be described as a Scotch joke. It is as follows: "Greater Glasgow is often held up as a modern municipality. There is something in the claim. With a population of 853,000, it has only 494 doctors." Scotch physicians hold a high rank in their profession; perhaps the fact should be considered as part of the joke that with a population of 853,000 Glasgow has only 494 doctors.

There are in the United States more than 100,000 doctors, and it has not been observed by anybody that the death rate is less in those localities in which the number of physicians is small than in those in which, as in New York and in most important northern cities, it is large. As a matter of fact, and as the official figures show, whatever may be the case in Glasgow, there are actually more physicians in proportion to the total number of inhabitants in Scotland than in any other portion of the United Kingdom, the number of physicians and surgeons in Scotland being 850 per million inhabitants, to 650 in Ireland and 550 in England. Indeed, there are more physicians in proportion to the population in Scotland than in any other country of Europe. In Italy and Russia there are fewer than 300 doctors for each million inhabitants; in France, Germany, Spain, Holland and Belgium, there are from 300 to 400. It is never possible to compute with entire accuracy, however, the number of physicians, for, in the computations made in some countries, surgeons are included; in other countries they are not. Some European countries carry on their register of physicians those employed in the army and marine service—physicians on men-of-war and on merchantmen; others do not. In some records dentists are carried as physicians, and in still others, though the number is less, veterinary surgeons are borne.

It is a fact, the knowledge of which is not perhaps generally diffused, that under the enlarged New York charter the city will be to some extent in the line of succoring the sick. Section 325 declares that it shall be the duty of any police captain to register in a book kept for that purpose the name and address of any person desisting or needing medical aid, and thereupon one of the doctors registered in said precinct is forthwith to be notified of the case requiring attention. If the patient pays, well and good; if he doesn't, then the physician is to present his claim to the department of health, which is to pay the physician three dollars in the case of indigent patients.—N. LATEST CAPES FOR WOMEN.

Costumes Will Be Elaborately Decorated with Passementerie Lace. Autumn hats will be fashioned of Mauchon braid, which is really a cylindrical felt. It can be sewed on to any shape, and is consequently not coming to the place of the hat. It is not to be confused with the hat of gray or violet, made of green and black gray and rose color will also be in evidence. Beige color will be fashionable, especially in the soft Tyrolean shape, with a wide band of gray gaily ribbon around the crown and a bunch of quills. The new model is considerably different from the old ones. The new low crowns are made of velvet and are slightly smaller than the old ones, and most of the new styles are made of velvet and soft silk. The new material is called velvet. It is used for the collars and the much used velvet trimming and plume of all kinds will be much in demand. The velvet plumes will be decorated with smartest. Velvet and lace will be employed on many of the handsomest hats. Capses will be larger and a little fuller. The collars will be cut in one piece with the garment. Braiding is used extensively as a decoration for these graceful garments. A delicate pipe cut on the new velvet is built of gold gray, braided with a little darker shade in a simple but effective pattern, and lined with rose pink tulle. Braided with silk cord numbers among the latest fancies of fashion. Still another new braiding is to be used on short jackets. It consists of an outline of silver or gold braid.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Served a Double Purpose.

A certain young widow of Indianapolis, who has just changed her weeds for brighter hues, gave a dinner party not long ago. The rooms were decorated with a great profusion of flowers. Roses in vases were on the mantels, and the dinner table fairly blossomed; in fact, the abundance of flowers was unusual. One of the guests could restrain her curiosity no longer, and, when the dessert was brought in, said: "Well, Mrs. Black, you're rather spreading on the flowers to-night!" "Yes," replied the fair widow brightly, "but to-morrow I am going to take them out to Crown Hill and put them on poor Tom's grave."

A regular "13" shiver went round the table.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Wines! Wines! Wines!

A. T. Dormio & Co., opposite the depot, have just received a large consignment of wines which will be sold at a 25 per cent reduction. They are of Santa Clara and Santa Rosa vintage and are of the purest quality. Just the thing for medicinal and family use. Read the list: Zinfandel, Maderia, Angelica, Tokay, Port, Sherry, Catawba, Claret, Reising and others, also imported Italian wines and grape brandy.

For a Quarter of a Century.

To-morrow will be the twenty-fifth anniversary of the first through mail and express train on the Virginia & Truckee railroad from Reno to Virginia City. Trains had been running to Steamboat Springs for some months before, but the first through service began just a quarter of a century ago to-morrow.

Some fifteen Renoites visited Carson yesterday to attend the bicycle races.
